I can identify collective nouns.

LessonID: 208

Collective nouns are the names given to groups or collections of people, places, things or ideas. When looking out for collective nouns, just ask yourself whether the noun is describing more than one of something. Match the underlined collective noun with the group it describes. The first has been done for you.

Sentence

The class started their work.

The squad only had one match left.

Slowly, the convoy left the depot.

The flotilla sailed down the river.

The poor animal had been separated from its pod.
