I can identify different types of noun.

LessonID: 209

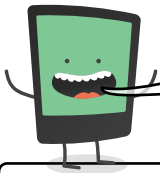

Common nouns give things general names.
 Proper nouns give things specific names.
 Abstract nouns name things that can't be seen.
 Collective nouns name groups of people, places, things or ideas.

For each underlined noun below, write down what type of noun it is.

Ben and Paul were filled with fear as they were surrounded by the pack; they knew the wolves wouldn't let them go.

All they could do was hope that the class would realise they were missing.

Circle all the nouns in the following sentences. Add them to the list beneath the correct heading.

The class were filled with regret following their behaviour.

Paul loved to sail a boat down the River Thames whenever he visited London.

Sally sometimes found it difficult to control her mood.

Filled with determination, the herd continued their journey through the jungle.
