I can use commas in simple lists.

LessonID: 291

Commas can be used between items in lists. They go between each item apart from the last two, which may be linked with the conjunction 'and' or 'or'. Add the missing commas to the following sentences.

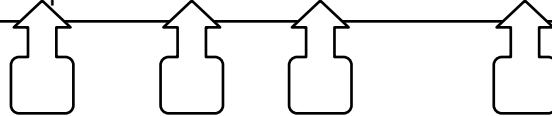

From the shops I need to buy bread cheese ham and eggs.

For dinner you may have roasted vegetables a hamburger grilled fish chips or pasta.

Tick two boxes in each sentence to show where the commas should go.

Labradors poodles boxers and terriers are all breeds of dog.

I need to pack my shoes a jumper a wooly hat and my scarf.

Look at each shopping list or menu below. For each one, write the list down as a properly punctuated sentence. You'll need to introduce the list somehow, as shown in the first
